"The whole theory of the universe is directed unerringly to one single individual—namely to YOU."

—Walt Whitman

To a teacher facing a new class each season, we must all appear to be just a sea of faces—one indistinct and unidentified mass. But to that same teacher, encouraging and discussing and molding and correcting, each one of us begins to emerge from the mass as a distinct personality.

This, then, is the theme of our yearbook for 1962—how we gradually emerge as individuals capable of self-direction and ready to assume the responsibilities that lie beyond these gray walls bounded by Third and Fourth Avenues . . .

Foreword

this is the 1962 Tradewind . . .

"Let each become all that he was created capable of being . . . and show himself at length in his own shape and stature, be these what they may."

—Thomas Carlyle

When a teacher goads or questions, encourages or admonishes, he has one purpose in mind—to make of each one of us the best individual that we are capable of becoming.

When we have been educated to our capabilities as well as our limitations, we are ready for a new perspective—the horizon toward which we all travel.

Administration

Education is the cornerstone . . .

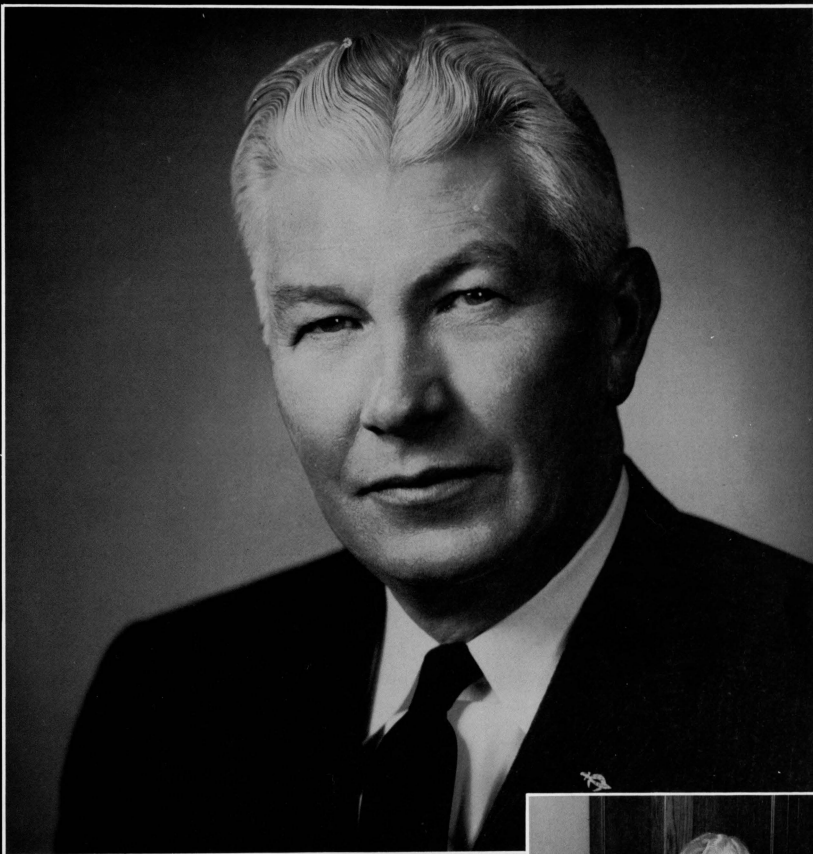

MR. NORMAN A. JENSEN, Principal

Mr. Jensen confers with Mr. R. F. Nord, Consultant in Industrial Education, Minneapolis schools.

Each of us is the product of the many factors which influence our lives. Obviously a person's school experiences contribute a great deal to the formation of good work habits, interests, and ideals. Those of us who are responsible for your school experiences are constantly in the process of evaluating which experiences are contributing the most toward developing not only trade skills, but personality development as well. We are filled with a glow of pride and satisfaction as we observe the developing of secure, well-rounded personalities of the vast majority of our students. As we complete another school year we repeat what we have said before, "Vocational High School has an outstanding student body, equal to any group anywhere." We have much faith in you and we are confident that you have the key to success when you respond as you should to the various experiences you encounter in your daily life.

MR. WILDFRED MCGIMPSEY, Assistant Principal

To achieve a purposeful education is the result of a never-ending diligence born of a desire to attain a particular goal. The attainment of that goal regardless of what it may be will help shape the world of tomorrow. As individuals we help make the world in all its complexities. Though it be but a small part, we give it shape through the things we have learned to believe and the ideals by which we live.

So as the seniors of 1962 emerge after three years at Vocational, it is our hope that they have found a source of inward strength that will give them an opportunity to do their part in the world, as happy and successful citizens.

Mr. McGimpsey talks to a parent.

Guidance throughout the years —

Mr. Thompson discusses a job possibility with Eugene Kumpula who is in Architectural Drawing.

Co-ordinators

When we first come to Vocational, our co-ordinators know a great deal about us for they are the ones who select those students who qualify to attend Vocational. During the time we are at school, we become well acquainted with them for they are always willing to help us whenever we have a problem concerning our trade or job.

Throughout our Junior year, they give us tests to determine our abilities and discuss with us our future plans at different intervals.

When we become Seniors, they help us to decide whether we want to work or go on to college. As a result of our co-ordinators' work, our focus, or "set", on our future becomes steady and clear, and we leave Vocational with the confidence that we are equipped to take our place in the world.

Keeping daily records —

Vocational's

Office Staff

Efficiency is the keynote in any office and our school office staff rates A-1. School routine keeps on an even keel, for they are always on the job, whether it's checking absences, balancing the books, or keeping ahead of a constant avalanche of miscellaneous details.

MRS. EVELYN
LUNDBLAD:
Assistant Librarian.

A great deal of the librarians' work goes on behind the scenes. Here, Mrs. Lund begins the day sorting newly-arrived reference material.

Vocational's Library

The library is a familiar stamping ground for all of us and one of the most popular places around mid-term when research is necessary for themes and exams. Our librarians are always there and ready to help us to find any material we need and to suggest many other possible sources of information in the library.

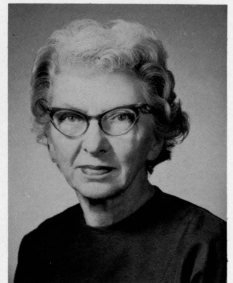

Special Service Teachers

Miss Christenson and Miss Dietrichson have the special job of working with individual students who have problems either in school or at home. Their offices are always open to anyone who needs understanding and guidance.

Miss Christenson prepares to leave for a call at a student's home.

Engineering Staffs

Without the services of these gentlemen, we all might have frozen to death during the long, cold winter of 1961-62. We realize how valuable they are to the school, for how else could we have kept our reputation for being so neat and tidy?

Vocational's Kitchen Staffs

In addition to those students in the Hotel and Restaurant Department who are receiving practical training on the school premises, we have a group of civil service personnel who work in those continuing services which cannot be supplied by students.

The student lunchroom staff is supervised by Mrs. Alice Clark, and our tea-room staff operates under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Glenny. Their success in planning menus and serving meals to numerous groups of visitors, faculty members and students becomes more well-known throughout the city, as satisfied customers advertise Vocational's wares.

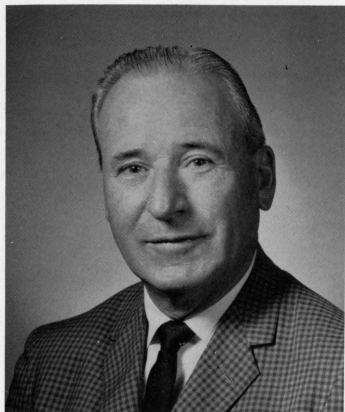

Mrs. Norman Jensen awaits a refill obligingly levered by Dale Lodmill as she "pours" for the principals' Christmas tea for staff personnel.

Jadin, Assistant Principal; Dale Davidson, Co-ordinator, Trade extension; Milo Latterell, Co-ordinator, Distributive and Business Education.

Vocational's Evening School

Evening School makes it possible for adults to receive extra training in order to find better jobs in their chosen fields. Many hobbyists, too, find relaxation and enjoyment in millinery classes or epicure-cookery courses. Our school building plays host to thousands of students both youths and adults, who use and profit by our facilities.

For those people who must work during the day, classes are held either in the later afternoon or in the evening. Enrollees may also take certain classes to acquire enough credits to go on to college.

The immense amount of clerical work is efficiently handled by this Evening School staff.

Commercial Art

The Commercial Art course reflects the ever-growing demand for attractive commercial and meaningful ways of communicating with the public, and for this reason consists of many kinds of art, including lettering, fashion illustration, photography and general art. The first three are self-explanatory while the latter, general art, is the class in which all types of commercial artwork are learned: layout, pasteup, watercolor, oil painting, silkscreen, and many others.

Good examples from each media are put into a portfolio by students of the course and shown to their prospective employers.

MR. JAMES HINSHAW:
Auto Mechanics; Post Graduate related shop knowledge.

Auto Mechanics and Aviation

In Auto Mechanics, a boy has the opportunity to learn every aspect of repairing and maintenance of an automobile. All during the three years of this course, he has shop classes for three hours in which he works on customers' cars.

After he graduates, the student has many opportunities for a job in any branch of the auto industry.

Aviation Mechanics is also a three year course which covers both theory and shop practice. Students work on units for both small and large aircraft. This year, with the added equipment, the FAA (Federal Aeronautics Administration) has approved our course, making it possible for graduates to obtain licenses to practice which will give them better job opportunities.

DEPARTMENT HEAD

MISS DEAN KEAN:

Filing and Office Training; Faculty Committee for Awards; National Honor Society Faculty Committee.

Business Department

Efficiency, the key to running any office, is stressed in each one of the three business courses offered at Vocational.

The Calculating Machines department offers training in operating the machines with speed and accuracy. Along with this class, typing, bookkeeping, office training, and business machines are required.

The Stenography department stresses shorthand and English above all other subjects. Also included in the course is training in the use of dictating machines, bookkeeping, typing, office training, filing, and business machines.

General Business is a generalized course not specializing in any one subject. The student acquires an over-all knowledge of all business techniques.

MRS. LOUISE AMERMAN:
Shorthand; Typing; Merchandising — Salesmanship; Publicity Committee.

MRS. ELEANOR HUSO:
Beginning and Advanced Typing, Bookkeeping, and Advanced Shorthand.

MRS. MOLLY MOORE:
Business Machines; Open House Committee.

MRS. MARGARET ORROCK:
Beginning and Advanced Bookkeeping; Orientation; Tradewind Collections; Awards Committee.

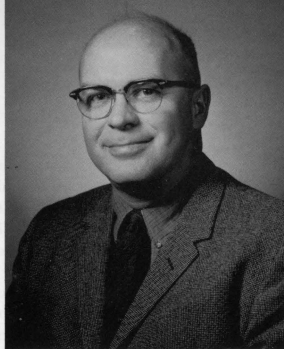

MISS HELEN ROBERTSON:
Beginning and Advanced Stenography, Transcription, and Business English; American Education Week; United Fund Committee; Public Affairs Committee.

MRS. LUCILLE WILLEN:
Calculating Machines; Related Math; Open House Committee; All-School Banking.

Mrs. Moore watches Judy O'Brien and Lynn Darson working on the IBM machines.

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MR. STANLEY FROSTAD:
Cabinet Making and furniture design; Audio Visual equipment and Stage Crew Manager.

Cabinet and Pattern Making, Upholstering

Cabinet Making is an advanced course in woodworking. The student learns how to use all hand tools and power machines in making cabinets, chairs, tables, and other household and business furnishings.

Pattern Making, a branch of the metal casting field, is a skill that enables boys to make patterns used for models in production of most metal objects. A patternmaker must thoroughly understand machine drafting, blueprint reading, and foundry molding processes. He also has to be an expert in the use and the care of all woodworking hand and machine tools.

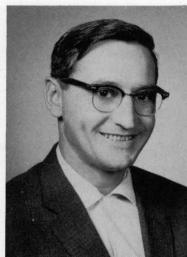

Upholstering gives the student a basic background in the repairing and building of different kinds of furniture. During the course, he learns the methods of springing, and seat, arm, and back construction.

MR. ROBERT LARSON:
Wood and Metal Pattern-making; Football Coach;
Athletic Equipment Manager;
Secretary-Treasurer of Minneapolis Industrial Education Society.

MR. OBED MELOM:
Cabinet Making.

MR. JOHN PEYLA:
Cabinet Making.

MR. FREDERICK RODDE:
Upholstering.

Mr. Rodde instructs Curtis Poole in springing a davenport for a customer.

Mr. Peyla supervises as Mike Soderquist and Darryl Webster sand a hutch in cabinet making.

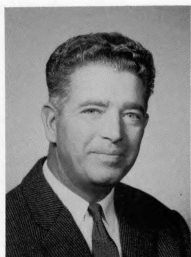

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MRS. DOROTHEA NEPRUDE:
Cosmetology.

Cosmetology and Barbering

Cosmetology today offers a challenge to those students who have a specific talent. Not all students qualify, however, for many special traits are necessary of which a pleasing personality and a willingness to get along with the public are among the most important. The required 1500 hours of training and the written examination at the end of the term provide the student with her license to practice in various fields.

Boys who are interested in barbering will find that this course is an excellent one to take. Under the direction of an experienced instructor, the student, after completing his 1200 hour course, is eligible to take his examination to receive his license.

MR. ROBERT GRAHAM:
Barbering.

MISS CHARLOTTE MYERS:
Cosmetology.

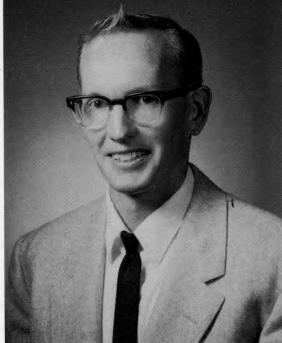

MISS MURIEL ZIEGLER:
Cosmetology.

Several of Miss Ziegler's post-grads (standing front: Linda Larson, Pat Nelson, and Carol Greer; sitting: Lenore McNabb, Laurie Vevea, and Sharon Leyden) demonstrate the different stages of fixing hair.

Two post-grads (Chuck Schliemann and Mike Graham) practice their hair-cutting technique.

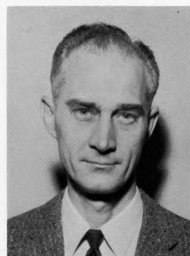

DEPARTMENT HEAD

MR. ROY ALMEN:

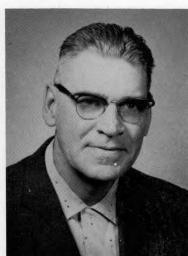

Radio; Electronics; Radio-control supervisor; Student Social Committee; Civil-Defense Committee.

Electronics, Electricity, Radio and Television

One of the major industries which has developed today because of the space age is electronics engineering. Boys in this department acquire a basic background in repairing and servicing electrical equipment. With further education, this background will provide a firm basis for employment in any field of electronics.

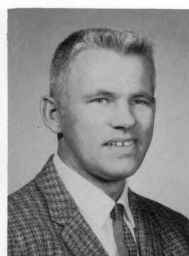

MR. WILLIAM HILTNER:
Electricity.

MR. CLIFFORD LUNDBERG:
Electricity.

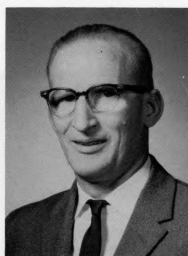

MR. WENDEL NIES:
Electricity—Electronics.

MR. CALVIN SCHAEFFER:
Radio and Television.

MR. VERNON SWENSON:
Radio; Electronics; Television; Open House Committee; Student Social Affairs Committee.

MR. RODNEY VAN SICKLE:
Electronics.

Mike Marin and Warren Raiche align a television set using an oscilloscope and sweep and marker generator while Mr. Schaeffer looks on.

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MR. EUGENE HALL:
Machine Drafting.

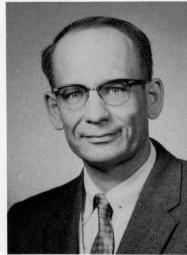

Machine and Architectural Drafting

In Architectural Drafting, a boy learns to draw plans, or "working drawings," of a complete building or parts of a building. A senior is able to estimate the cost of a building and make pictorial drawings of the finished structure to be shown to the owner of a building.

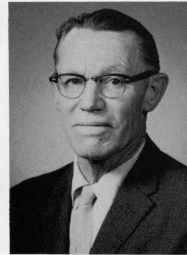

Machine Drafting is similar except that in this course a student learns to draw and design various machine parts. In his sophomore year, he learns to draw parts by copying various existing parts; then in his junior and senior years he learns to plan and design various machine parts of his own.

MR. JOSEPH BUDISH:
Architectural Drawing; Sophomore Class Adviser; Boy's Golf Coach; Auditorium Program Committee.

MR. DONALD EVANS:
Related Drawing; Chairman of United Fund Committee; Co-Director of the Minneapolis Industrial Education Society representing Vocational.

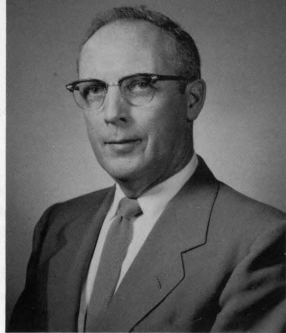

MR. GARFIELD SCHOW:
Machine Drafting; Related Math; Faculty Manager of athletics.

Michael Super leans over to see how Jim Reveling does it in a mechanical drafting class.

Mr. Evans explains a technical point about related drawing to David Cornelius.

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MR. LOUIS PREKKER:
Sheet Metal.

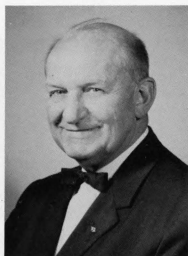

Machine Shop, Sheet Metal and Welding

The expansion of industry has brought about an ever-increasing demand for workers in these trades.

The machinist is taught the essential skills of hand-tool operations and machine operations. He is trained in the forming of steel and other materials into various shapes and sizes to conform to blueprint specifications.

The sheet metal student is instructed in the drafting or layout and fabrication of sheet metal products. The course includes general sheet metal and the installation of pipes and ducts for heating, ventilation and air-conditioning needed for building construction.

Students in welding learn to operate various kinds of welding equipment suited for different jobs. They also are trained to recognize individual metals, the correct way to weld them, and how to read blueprints.

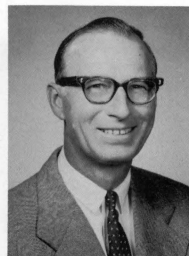

MR. CLARENCE BOOTH:
Machine Shop; Director of Homecoming; M.C. at pep fests.

MR. HOWARD FRIES:
Machine Shop.

MR. THOMAS PIPER:
Welding.

MR. GENE SANFORD:
Machine Shop.

In machine shop, Nick Heger and Terry Bilges look on as Ron Ogren operates a lathe.

Mr. Sanford can't wait, so he gives his assistance in the remodeling of the machine shop.

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MRS. MARGUERITE BELTON:
 Power Sewing; Sophomore Class Adviser.

Needle Arts, Tailoring and Retail Sales

Most of us think that the designing and sewing of beautiful dresses and other clothing takes little effort and thought, but students in the Needle Arts and Tailoring departments know that this isn't true. A garment with good lines takes planning and replanning to achieve a striking effect.

A student must be able to recognize texture and wearability of materials, learn to design patterns, and cut and sew articles either by hand or by power-sewing machine.

A person who likes to meet people especially enjoys the Retail Training course. A student here learns the techniques of selling, keeping sales records, and of designing and setting up displays. These future sales people can practice their salesmanship on customers in the school store.

MR. HENRY ARENT:
 Band; Needle Arts.

MR. EDWARD KARBO:
 Tailoring.

MISS JOSEPHINE LEACHMAN:
 Sales and Receptionist; Ticket selling for all school activities; Vocational School Store.

MRS. DENA TARNOWSKI:
 Needle Arts.

MRS. BEVERLY WHITE:
 Textiles; English; Flag Twirlers and Pom Pon Girls.

Mary Ann Ayhens and Shirley Tullgren prepare the display in sewing for visitors.

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MISS GLADYCE BUDD:
 Physiology; Nutrition; Nursing Procedures;
 Psychology.

Pre-Nursing Department

From the time they were toddlers, many girls have dreamed of becoming nurses. If such a girl is accepted for enrollment in the Pre-Nursing Department, she may find out in actual nurse-aid training whether she is adapted for work in the nursing field, or for further training in professional nursing.

During a girl's three years of study here she obtains a basic knowledge in nurse-aid training. In her sophomore and junior years she learns the fundamentals of her profession—care of patients, the arranging of meals, and the care of children in the nursery school. In her Senior and the last part of her junior year, a girl who is able to qualify can actually put into practice the training that she has received at Swedish hospital working as a nurses' aid.

MISS DAGNEY AWES:
 Vocational Relationships;
 Community and Public Health; Mental Health.

MRS. EVELYN BEATTY:
 Pre-Nursing; National Honor
 Society Committee Adviser;
 Social Committee for Health;
 Civil Defense.

MRS. JANET

 tices; Medications; Life Span.

Darlene Boehler practices getting a patient, Kathy Bienias, ready to receive her visitors.

Cheri La Belle holds a model of the brain as she dictates to Diane Manberg some notes about the nerve system in their physiology class.

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MR. ROBERT HANSON:

Printing

Printing, being one of the nation's ten largest industries, has become a popular as well as important course here at Vocational. Part of its importance lies in the fact that all printing for the Minneapolis Public Schools is done in our print shop.

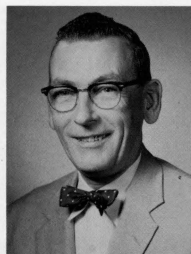

The sophomore begins his course with classes in bookbinding and letterpress work; the junior then learns to print in offset and to work in the job shop; the senior may either continue his job shop work or work with a commercial print shop for additional training and experience.

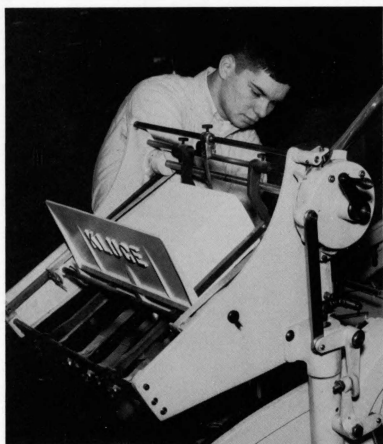

MR. CARROLL BAKER:
Printing; Related Math; Estimating.

MRS. PAUL MULLER:
Beginning Offset and Layout.

MR. HAROLD TIETZ:
Printing.

Victor Villella gets the press ready to roll.

Students in an offset printing class prepare key lines for a camera. From left to right are Orville Young, John Manner, Mr. Muller, and Tom Munford.

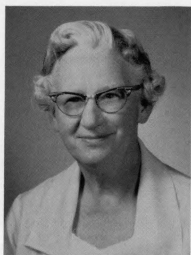

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MRS. ALICE CLARK:
 Large Quantity Cooking; Social Committee.

Hotel and Restaurant Training

Students who enjoy cooking as more than just a pastime but with sincere interest in a lifetime job, find that this course includes all the subjects needed to hold a responsible position in the future.

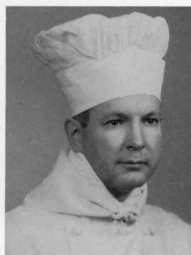

Students learn how to make large and small quantities of food and also get experience by serving in the tea room, cafeterias and at various banquets. During the senior year, advanced instruction is given under chef supervision.

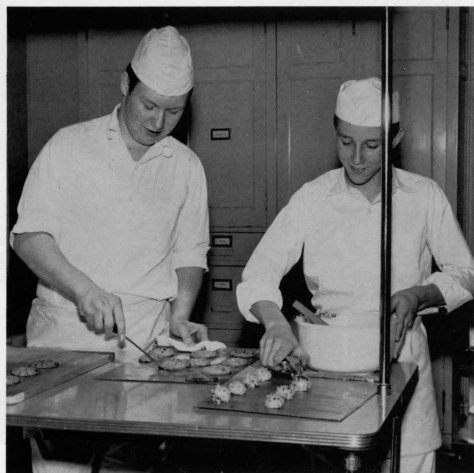

MRS. DOROTHY GLENNY:
 Hotel and Restaurant Training.

MRS. MILDRED SHEPARD:
 Hotel and Restaurant Training; Home Economics Club; American Ass'n. of University Women.

MR. JOHN FITCHETTE:
 Hotel and Restaurant Training.

Jim Nicholson and Dean Lawrence prepare cookies for lunch.

Mrs. Shepard supervises as Diane Grevin and Douglas Soderstrom put the finishing touches on a pizza.

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MR. VERNON FIEDLER:
 U. S. History; Coach for Sophomore Football, Baseball and Basketball.

Social Studies

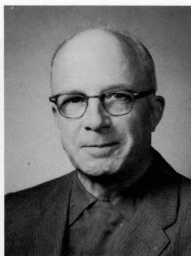

"The more extensive a man's knowledge of what has been done, the greater will be his power of knowing what to do."

—Lord Beaconsfield

History, dealing with man's past, and Modern Problems, concerned with man's constantly changing environment, give students the background and understanding so vitally necessary for living in an ever more challenging world. How individuals now in our schools meet this challenge will determine the kind of world future generations will live in.

MR. GERALD CADY:
 U. S. History; Coach for Football, Wrestling, and Track.

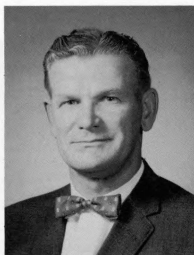

MR. LEONARD DICKEY:
 Modern Problems; Secretary of the Social Studies Department.

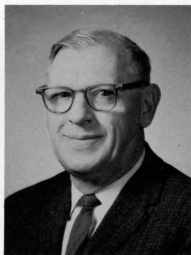

MISS EVELYN EDBLOM:
 U. S. History; English; Social Committee; Sponsor for Junior Red Cross.

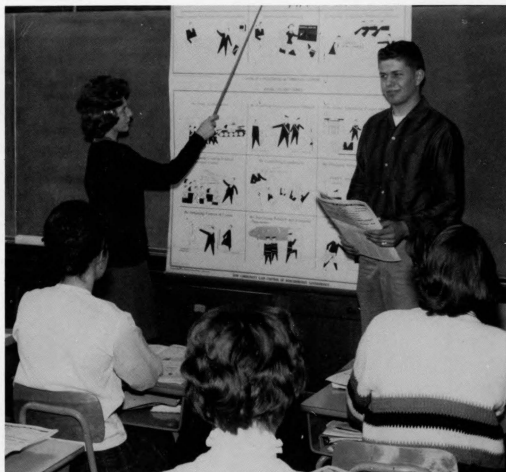

MISS JEAN HUNTOON:
 Modern Problems.

MR. ARTHUR LINDMAN:
 Modern Problems; U. S. History; Student Council.

MR. MILO SWEEN:
 U. S. History; Cross Country Coach; United Fund and Public Affairs Committee; Honor Society Faculty Committee; Building Representative; Committee of 13; Pension Fund.

Jack Carlson and Arlowa Clough give a report on the applied economics theory in Miss Jean Huntoon's Modern Problems class.

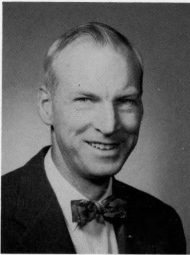

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MR. EVAN JONES:
Mathematics.

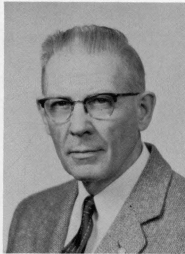

Mathematics

The different mathematics courses are given in connection with different trades. Related math, for instance, is given to cooking and sewing students to help them understand fractions. This course covers mainly the practical applied math necessary to carry on the student's trade work and personal affairs.

For those students whose trades are technical, or for those who wish to go on to college, plane geometry, advanced algebra, or solid geometry are also offered.

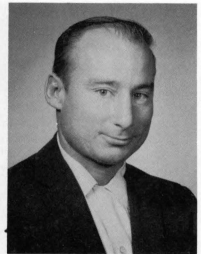

MR. FRANCIS CRAWFORD:
Related Mathematics; 7th
Hour Adviser; Lunchroom
Supervisor.

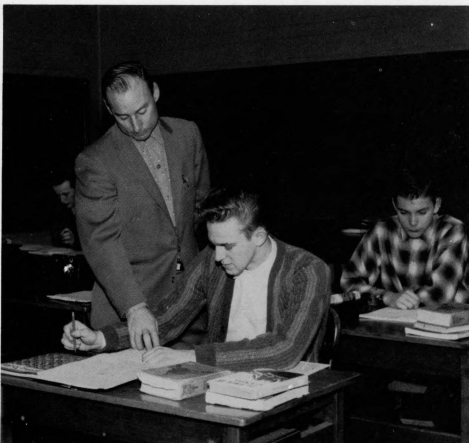

MR. FLOYD ELLER:
Related Math.

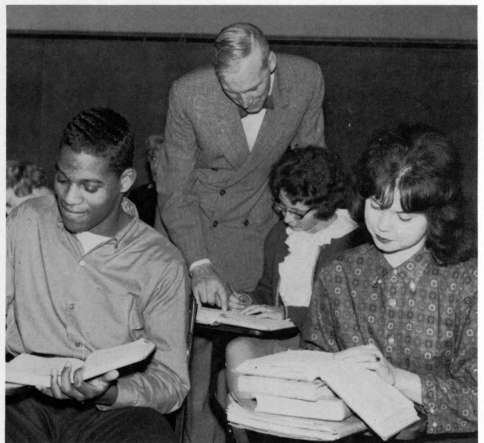

MR. JAMES
REINERTSON:
Algebra; Geometry; Related
Math; Social Committee.

MR. JAMES SALWASSER:
English; Related Math;
Hockey Coach.

Mr. Salwasser gives special instruction to Levene Nohrenberg in math class. In the background studying is Vandell Richardson.

Henry Edwards and Sandra Guzek look over the class assignment before setting pencil to paper, as Mr. Crawford explains to Kathy Larson how to solve a difficult problem.

Science Department

1962 was a year of unusually heavy snows in Minnesota. It was also the year of the Orbit, with Astronaut John Glenn riding the world among the stars. Perhaps we all need reminding that applied science begins in the mind, among books and ideas and theories and teachers, and that here in the classroom lies the fate of our nation.

DEPARTMENT HEAD

MR. ARTHUR JACKSON:

Related Science; Physics; Social Committee; United Fund; Locks and Lockers.

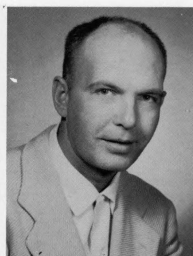

Front Row: Dave LaBonne, Alan Caple, and Richard Laugen. Back Row: Mike Kelly, Mike Hedemark, and Danny Kohanek. Mr. Voss oversees a study period in one of his senior science classes.

MR. RICHARD CHAMBERS:

Biology; Assistant Football and Wrestling Coach; Tennis Coach.

MR. JOHN VOSS:

Physics; Chemistry; Related Science; Assistant Coach-Football; Coach-Sophomore Baseball; Coach-Swimming; Open House Committee.

Joyce Hajny examines a slide as Marlene Thureson and Mr. Chambers look on.

Physical Education

Gym is fun time in any sophomore's day. During the year a sophomore learns that the process of keeping physically fit can be fun, especially when competition is on a friendly basis.

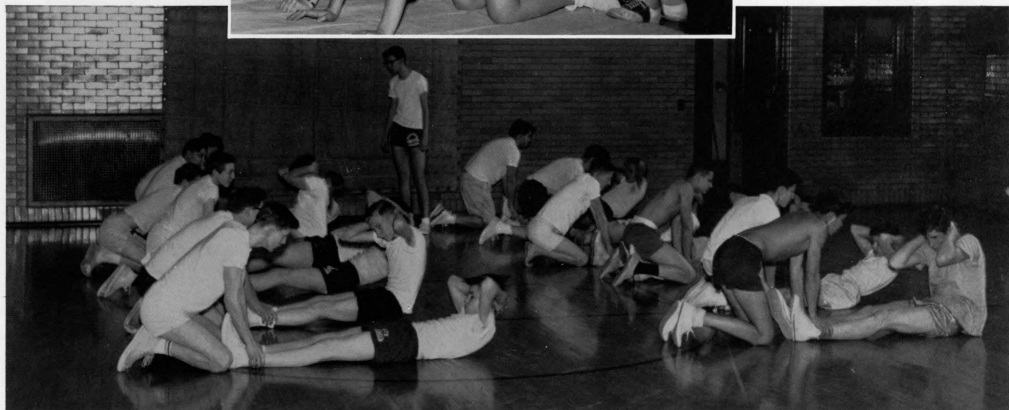

This informal type of class involves learning how to relax, yet how to work as a team; being a good sport and learning the rules, understanding such games as basketball, tennis, football and bowling.

DEPARTMENT HEAD
MRS. SARAH JANE LEMKE:
Physical Education; Chairman Awards Committee; Cheerleaders; Girls' Golf; Badminton.

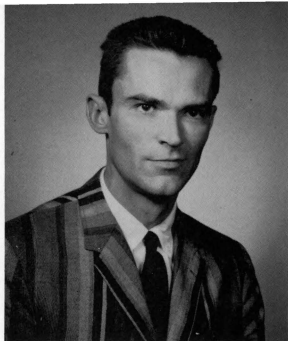

Mrs. Lemke and Jean Gould aid Janet Bauer as she prepares to leap over the backs of Cathy Grimes and Mary Cichoski.

MR. THOMAS WITHROW:
Physical Education; Basketball Coach.

Mr. Withrow's Sophomore gym class does exercises that are essential for good physique.

English Department

English, a basic requirement throughout the student's school years, has become more and more important. Oftentimes a student doesn't realize this until later on, when an attractive position or promotion might slip out of his grasp because earlier in his life, when he had the opportunity to learn, he overlooked the importance of this fundamental subject.

The individual has not really emerged from the crowd until he has learned to think and express himself well in both writing and speaking.

DEPARTMENT HEAD

Teaching begins . . .

MRS. ELSIE KWAKKERNAAT

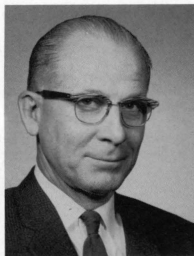

Music

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage beast." So runs the proverb. We don't know how many "savages" Mrs. Kwakkernaat counts among her sophomores, but certainly a basic knowledge of the universal language carries its own message of the beauty to be found in the world of sound.

Mrs. Kwakkernaat "sounds her A" and the sophomore music class begins their study of "Keyboard Junior."

. . . with planning

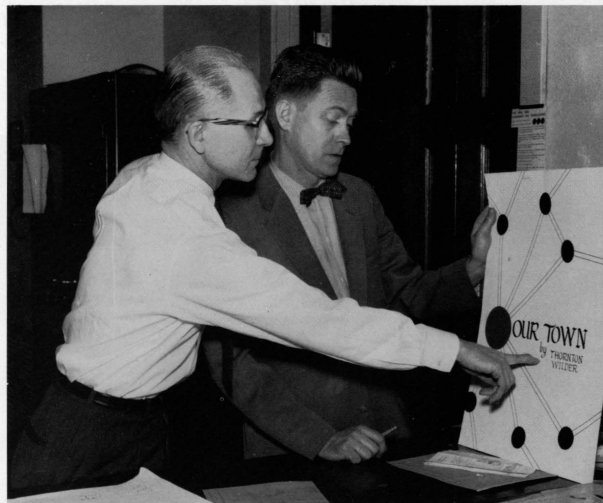

MR. J. ALBERT OSTER

Curricular and In-Service Training

Since our school is basically a vocational school offering three hours of shop work each day plus related and academic subjects, most of the trade teachers need some preparation and understanding of how our school operates. This kind of In-Service teacher training is given in the fall by Mr. Oster.

Mr. Oster's office is also a clearinghouse for much new material sent by commercial companies, which eventually finds its way into the shop courses.

His office also handles a large volume of mimeographing services for teachers.

Mr. Oster and Mr. Hanson discuss the layout of a poster that is scheduled for production.

In memoriam . . .

. . . and remembrance

"During the seventeen years, ending with his untimely death on February 27, 1962, that Mr. Vernon Swenson served as a member of our staff he gained a host of friends, including hundreds of students and staff members.

"A man of high principles, his deep interest in teaching coupled with his kind personality resulted in a philosophy of recognizing the best in everyone rather than indulging in criticism or fault-finding.

"We have lost an outstanding teacher, a fine gentleman and a true friend. We feel we were fortunate to have had the privilege of associating with this man during his many years at Vocational High School."

Mrs. Mildred Shepard shares a friendly cup of coffee in the teachers' lunchroom with Mr. David Johnson and Mrs. Diane Hoyer, both new teachers in the English Department this year.

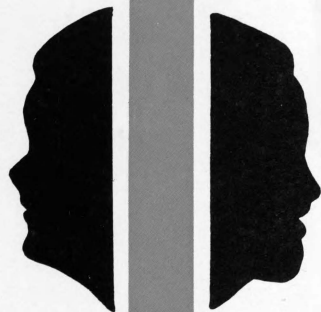

*"As now we gather in thy halls, loud our voices raise.
To Alma Mater of us all we dedicate our praise."*

Our Vocational will always live in our minds and hearts. The excitement of homecoming, laughing at the new fashions—then wearing them ourselves—the fun of the football and basketball games, the perils of forgetting a homework assignment—the self-satisfaction of being a part of the school life.

"Hail, old Vocational, hail to thy name. Long may we honor thy glory and fame forever—through all the passing years in memories held dear—we'll fly our banner fair to victory."

Homecoming —

—and we decorated our cars, enjoyed the beautiful coronation ceremony, war-whooped and threw confetti at the game, and lived it up at the dance late that evening.

On that long-awaited afternoon, a curving staircase on stage led up to a pair of thrones flanked by pom pon girls, flag twirlers, cheerleaders, the royal candidates, and the junior and sophomore attendants, all shining with happiness and expectancy.

When the big moment arrived, Joe Durushia, Student Council President, crowned King Dave Smith; and Mary Koolstra, 1960 Homecoming Queen, crowned Queen Mary Ingle.

Excitement pervaded the first quarter of the game that followed. Henry beat us 27-0, but the streamers and confetti pouring from our side of the bleachers showed our spirits were still unflagging.

That evening in a purple and gold decorated gym, we renewed acquaintance with returning Vocational alumni.

Everyone agreed that the day couldn't have been more fun. Henry may have won the game, but they didn't conquer our spirit.

Fads of the past year.

Don't get the impression that we all dress like this—only those of us who can afford it.

Some of the fads of this year weren't too different from former years. Short skirts and fuzzy hats dominated the feminine scene this year. Poncho shirts and slim zippered ankles adorned a few courageous male figures.

We hope these pictures won't scare anyone away from trying new fashions. Even if people do laugh, they'll probably be trying the same fashions in a few weeks.

Fun and dancing

Two of our all-school parties, the P.T.S.A.-sponsored party and the Costume Party, were hilarious fun.

The P.T.S.A. arranged for Hal Murray of radio station KDWB to preside over the evening with "Murray's Merry-Go-Round." He distributed door prizes—mostly records—throughout the evening.

At the Costume Party, sailors ogled flappers, clowns aped the feminine football players who squirmed under their unaccustomed shoulder pads, Spanish dancers flirted with hillbillies, while a very feline cat purred through the whole evening.

Both parties were well attended by students as well as by teachers who enjoyed it as much, if not more, than the students.

Organizations and activities are the heart-beat of a school. But we add—the individual furnishes the blood!

An organization is like a jig-saw puzzle: every piece has to be interlocking before it is complete. Likewise, each one needs friends and worthwhile activities which help him to emerge as a well-rounded individual.

This year the P.T.S.A. sponsored an all-school dance at which Hal Murray of radio station KDWB was Master of Ceremonies. Door prizes were distributed throughout the evening.

National Honor Society

Since 1956, Vocational's National Honor Society, Chapter 6016, has played an important role in daily school life. Members, elected on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, and service, have given their time and effort in connection with Open House and school plays. Membership in this society is the highest honor attainable by any high school student.

This year fourteen students, nine seniors and five juniors, were newly initiated into the society. Seniors are Rita Balfanz, Robert Brophrey, Judy Canavan, Jennine Lindenberg, Trellis Patterson, Joan Salzer, Josie Warhol, and Milinal Williams. Juniors are Marion Dally, Delores Brecht, Valentina Hachow, Leila Larson, and Sara Vail.

Service Club

The Service Club is one of the largest organizations at Vocational. There are over 60 members—for some reason, all girls.

The services provided by the club are many. Visitors are given a tour of the building by these girls. Members are also called upon to usher at the school plays, programs, and at commencement exercises. Occasionally they are called upon to usher in our auditorium for some outside organization.

Mr. J. Albert Oster is the Service Club adviser.

Camera Club

Loiterers might hear noises issuing from room 300 until the wee hours every Wednesday night as members of the Camera Club practice their skills and learn new ones in photography under Mr. Albert Oster's direction.

In the beginning of the year new members learn the techniques of taking good pictures. They begin by learning how to shoot the same subject from different angles and light exposures. These shutterbugs then learn to develop and print their own efforts.

This year members of the club had a field day at the senior banquet with many willing subjects to photograph, and at other times they "shot" a number of unsuspecting victims at a variety of parties.

"The Matchmaker" was fun—

This year we were treated to two forms of play-writing by Thornton Wilder: a profound piece, labeled by some critics "the" great American play—"Our Town"; and "The Matchmaker," a farce play in four acts, about a rich old merchant who decides to take a wife. To help him find a wife, he hires a matchmaker who becomes involved with two of his clerks, assorted young and lovely ladies, and the head waiter at an expensive restaurant. After everyone gets straightened out romantically, and everyone achieves his heart's desire, the merchant finds himself attached to the matchmaker herself.

National Thespian Troupe 1707

The National Thespian Society, advised by Mr. Robert Turner, has two purposes for existence: to establish and advance standards of excellence in all phases of dramatic arts; to create an interest in the importance of the dramatic arts. Vocational High School, as Troupe #1707 of this society, sponsors two all-school plays each year, two variety shows, and many assembly programs. Students earning ten points by participation in any of these activities—acting, stage work, technical work—are then eligible for membership and the Thespian pin. Each additional ten points earned merit gold stars. The “Gold Star” Thespian (60 points) is usually the “all Star” student.

A solemn scene from "Our Town."

A dress rehearsal is in session with stage set for action.

Thespians present "Our Town"

There is no denying that "Our Town" is the best-loved play in modern American drama. The play's warm-hearted, cheerful view of the satisfactions of simple living are especially welcome today when many plays are critical of American life.

Mr. Robert Turner and his Thespians presented this play on March 15th and 16th. A third and benefit performance was given on March 19th for the Minneapolis Area Council of Teachers of English Scholarship Fund. For the second consecutive year a Vocational production was offered to, selected, and recommended by this group for city-wide student viewing.

Stage Crew

The Stage Crew, under the direction of Mr. Stanley Frostad, plays an essential role in all of the school programs and stage presentations. They are hard-working people behind the curtain who set up the necessary props and scenery and make instantaneous scene changes. These are the people who are never seen but without whom we could never get along.

We now give them a hearty round of applause as they bring the final curtain down.

Student Council

Some form of central control is essential in any city or state, and the same is true of our school; but through the Student Council we have a voice in directing our school affairs.

Not necessarily governmental, but of real service, are the Council's efforts to encourage scholastic excellence, student participation, extracurricular activities and an improved school spirit among the student body. This kind of encouragement takes the form of awarding wrist watches to a senior boy and a senior girl who have been outstanding, "all-around" students; hosting the Craftsman and Tradewind staffs at breakfasts, with gifts to outstanding staff members; as well as presenting each staff with a camera which even commercial photographers envy.

With Mr. Arthur Lindman as adviser, the Council has sponsored many events such as an all-school Christmas party, a costume party, and a skating party. Their "splashiest" project was Homecoming which, with its autumn color and tang, prepared us for the coming joys of another year at school.

School Banking

Students who enroll at Vocational are often thought of as being the "practical type." What could be more practical than preparing for a rainy day? Of course, no one expects a cloudburst, exactly, but students who faithfully drop their hard-earned shekels into the coffers of the Farmers and Mechanics school banking program are practicing the kind of foresight that Vocational encourages.

For those thrifty students who bank each week, a thrift luncheon was given at the Leamington Hotel. Those who attended were Mary Ann Aykens, Bonita Bassett, Leebe Brown, Kathy Hruska, Donna Kjona, Joan Salzer, Patricia Schaust, Betty Schumacher, Gloria Smith, Kathy Swintek, Cheryl Thomas, Darlene Vavrosky, and Kathleen Vichorek.

School newspaper . . .

Having read the blaring international headlines about the Berlin situation and Viet Nam, our students turn their eyes closer to home whenever the Craftsman is issued.

Under the direction of its new adviser, Mrs. Grace Teeter, the paper took on a new and completely individual style of writing. The contents, of course, were not of international concern, but were widely read with enthusiasm by Vocationalites.

The Craftsman is, as far as we know, the only high school newspaper that is produced solely by the school itself. The many phases of production pass through countless hands; from picture developing to writing copy and type-setting, the students themselves claim credit.

Running down the halls on the tail of a hot story, or sitting still and digging deep for plain facts, a member of the Craftsman staff never says it can't be done. Hard determination and deep devotion to their work can be read between the lines of every story.

The Craftsman is a glowing example of what Vocational students are made up of, because it's an example of their never-ending will to produce.

the year's events

Tradewind, Keeper of Memories

The yearbook staff each year is composed of seniors who have chosen this branch of journalism as their English equivalent. Those that apply are screened to select those most apt to do more than their share in order to get the work done.

Through the year the staff members become good friends as they work closely together on the great number of different jobs that have to be done. Even though the work is hard, staff members get a feeling of satisfaction seeing a book slowly unravel before their eyes.

At the close of the year, after all yearbooks have been distributed, the staff and their adviser, Mrs. Byrne, can sit back and relax and hope that this year's Tradewind will be a success.

Drivers' Training

Behind-the-wheel drivers training program entered its fifth season in April and will last until August of this year. Those eligible included all students under eighteen years of age. Classes are conducted by certified driver training instructors.

The object of the program is to prepare students for accident-free driving during their lifetime. To meet this objective the students are taught defensive driving, under a previously planned program, in actual city traffic.

At the end of the required training period those that have completed the course satisfactorily receive a certificate entitling them to a reduction of their insurance premium rates.

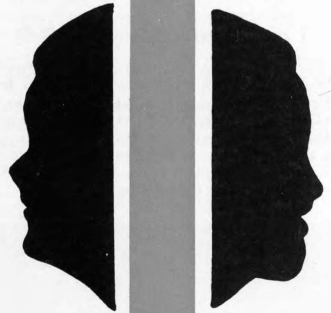

Mr. Vogtsberger discusses the advantages of the Driver's Training program with an interested junior.

There is one place where being an individual is not as important as is working together with others. That is as a team in some part of Vocational's sport program. Teamwork is very important if you want to win. This holds true in your daily life also, for to become a success in the world, you must first start at the bottom working with others to get the job done. Then you are able to rise in the world on your own.

The boys who go out for sports at Vocational learn that only as a team can they win the game, and even though they may become outstanding individuals as captains or star players, they still need every member of the team to have a successful season.

The Edison Tommies used two of Vocational's fumbles for two TD's, ending the first half 14-0 in their favor. The Volts charged back on the field to dominate the second half. We pushed ahead 70 yards to raise the score 14-12. Our boys played excellent football as Denny Kerner, Quarterback, made a TD; and Tom Jandro, Fullback, drove straight through the Tommies for 10 yards and the second TD. This ended the scoring for the day.

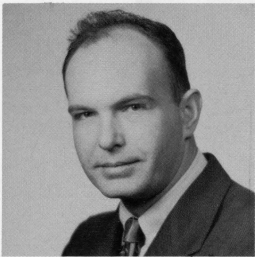

Vocational 12 North 6

The Volts came back the following week to freeze the North Polars 12-6. Tom Jandro tied the score in the first quarter 6-6. Then in the fourth, he popped through a hole in the Polars' line to bring the ball closer to the goal, but suffered a fractured knee in doing so. He went into the game again, however, three plays later, with 46 seconds to go, and plunged through for the winning TD.

The last game of the season was played against the West Cowboys. In the first five minutes of play, Denny Kerner threw a pass to Bob Swantek for the TD. The Volts led 6-7 up to the fourth quarter. The team really went all out to hold the Cowboys back, but they couldn't stop them from making two TD's in the fourth quarter. Thus, the score ended 20-7.

Vocational 12 Southwest 24

Vocational gave Southwest their first win of the season with a final score of 24-12. Denny Kerner dashed 40 yards for the first and 3 yards for the second TD to gain the first quarter lead of 12-0. The rest of the game was Southwest's as they scored 24 points in the next three quarters.

Vocational 0 Henry 27

The Volts' object was to "Voo Doo" the Pats at the homecoming game October 13. Henry, however, began in the first quarter to rack up their 27 points. The Volts were outmanned but not outfought. Roving linebacker Ken Yahr made more tackles than any man on the field.

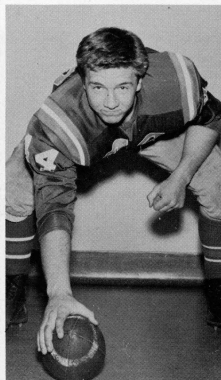

Vocational 0 Marshall 38

On a cold day in October, Marshall showed great drive as they won 38-0. The Volts determinedly tried to hold them back, but Marshall's good line pushed to victory.

Volt's rugged Varsity football team showed great drive and determination this year. "This team doesn't seem to give up when the going is tough," remarked Coach Gerry Cady, former Gustavus Adolphus star tackle.

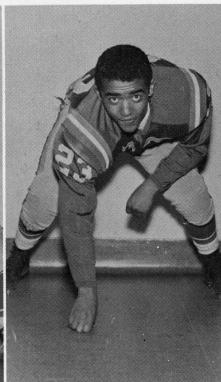

In certain positions the team showed much improvement, especially in defense. Co-captains Tom Jandro and Steve McMillan led the other members of the team through the season wholeheartedly and always kept their spirits up. Bob Swantek was chosen "most valuable player" from Vocational, and John Reuben made the second team of the All-City winners.

Hockey

Although many boys came out for hockey this year, they were handicapped by inexperience. Vocational lost all their games with only one goal made by Bryce Mason against Henry. Led by the captain and most valuable player, Denny Kerner, the team stuck it out through many cold practices to overcome this handicap. Dave Pavlik was considered by many of the other school's coaches as an excellent goalie, and Clyde Hill was a most aggressive first-string right wing. Some of the boys who will be back next year are Bryce Mason, Jim Schewe, Dean Owens, Joe Wryk, and Jim Reveling.

Bryce Mason, Number 2, heads for a goal in the Henry game while Jeff Ostrowski guards against Henry's interference.

The wrestling squad proved themselves good athletes as they won all their meets except one in the City Conference. They ended the season second only to Washburn with a 9-1 record. The Volts took the District 17 championship under the coaching of Mr. Gerald Cady and special coach, Mr. Robert Bord, a student of the University. The coach and his boys gave special recognition to Mr. Bord for voluntarily going all out for our team.

Vocational received a beautiful trophy for this championship, and it is now in our trophy case. The seven boys who went to the Region 5 meet are Pat Bourbuon, 103 lbs., Ken Yahr, 133 lbs., Commodore Oden, 138 lbs., Ernie Swinson, 145 lbs., Ben Drake, 154 lbs., Jerry Goldstein, 165 lbs., and Stan Skavnak, heavyweight.

Fall Sports Awards

MR. DARRYL BRUSTER
Minn. Vikings End Coach

January 12, 1962, was the day for the Fall Sports Awards to be given for Cross Country and Football.

Coach Milo Sween rewarded the Cross Country Team for their running ability and stamina during the season. Don King was their captain.

Football letters and bars were awarded by Coach Gerald Cady to an outstanding group of seniors that will be hard to replace and to the Sophomores and Juniors who will be returning for another season. Two of the boys who worked the hardest for the team were the managers, Don Slattery and Jim Heath.

The coaches agreed that we had a fine group of cheerleaders appreciated immensely by the teams.

To highlight the program, Mr. Darryl Bruster, Minnesota Vikings Offensive End Coach, was on hand to tell how discipline, teamwork, and training are so important in a sports program.

Swimming

A lot of action and excitement occurred at the YMCA pool during the swimming season. Coach John Voss and his tankers really cut the water even though they failed to win any meets. The team was led by Louis Vann, Captain, and they chose Don King Most Valuable Player. Gary Engvall placed second in the city for his diving record.

Winter Sports Awards

A surge of excitement went through the entire student body on March 23. The big day for the athletes on the wrestling, swimming, basketball, and hockey teams had arrived.

Letters and bars were given by Coach Tom Withrow to the basketball team. His remark was that they did not win but they never stopped trying. He announced that Bob Hoffman, Gary Schmidt, and Terry Bilges are to be next year's co-captains.

Don King presented swimming awards for Coach John Voss, who was unable to be present. As we go to press, therefore, next year's swimming captain remains a mystery, since Mr. Voss did not reveal that information.

Hockey coach James Salwasser made awards to the hockey team. Dennis Kerner was named most valuable player, and Jim Schewe next year's captain.

Mr. Gerald Cady gave wrestling awards to the best team he has had in ten years. Trophies were accepted by Ernie Swinson, Stan Skavnak, and Ken Yahr for acquiring the most pins during the season. Ernie Swinson and Ken Yahr had the honor to present the District 17 trophy to Vocational, which Mr. Jensen received with visible pleasure, along with a framed picture of the team. Next year's co-captains will be Joe Peasha and Pat Boerhuon.

Much to the surprise of Mr. Garfield Schow, the Student Council presented a trench coat to him for his dedicated service to the school as athletic manager.

Cross Country

The team had a "rough go" of it this year as they did not win any of their meets. Outstanding team members were Randy Purchase, Don King, John Gerhard, Lindley Griffith, Jerry Bushie, and Richard Martinson. "They were a bunch of good boys to work with," said Coach Sween, who hopes to have some fine juniors and sophomores coming back next year for a better-scoring season.

Our Pep Team

The sports program would never be complete without our cheerleaders. The six senior and five junior girls who compose our cheerleading squad are heard around Vocational's halls whenever there is going to be a game, whether it is football, basketball, or some other sport. These girls have a contagious abundance of pep, steam, and energy. They are always at the games rooting the boys on to victory or standing by them in defeat. Mr. Clarence Booth, our mascot, enlivens the pep fests with his friendly, jolly enthusiasm for the teams. Mrs. Sarah Jane Lemke, the cheerleader's adviser, shows the girls the correct way to do the cheers and how to be good representatives of Vocational High School when we compete with other schools.

A big splash of bright, gay purple and gold was made by the flag twirlers and pom pon girls on the football field, October 13, as they performed during the homecoming festivities. With less than a month of practice, the girls went through some catchy routines which added to the crowd's excitement.

Despite the long, hard hours of practice, advised by Mrs. Beverly White, the girls had a lot of fun in trying to make the squad and performing for large crowds. The squad was led by their captain, Marcella Irwin.

To sophomores and juniors, the 1961-62 school year was one of interesting and exciting adventures.

For each sophomore, high school, with its new classes and activities, provided many challenges. This group played a vital part in the total school program. They were made aware of what would be expected of them during years to come, and what they should expect from themselves.

The junior year is devoted to gaining further knowledge and experience necessary for the eventual day when this class and its individuals will assume important positions of leadership in the school.

Next year — Juniors!

Sophomore Party

January 19 was a day of snow, cold weather, and the start of many new colds. It was also the day of the long-awaited sophomore party and dance.

The party kept swinging along with the records, right up to the highlight of the evening, the "Twist" contest. The best twisters turned out to be none other than Russ Peterson and Gloria Iskierka.

Jack Aertson announces the "Twist" winners as Phyllis Lefebvre, Diane Schuman, and Janice Buchner anxiously await the results.

Charlzetta Irwin and Nicki Leon swing through the "Twist." "We couldn't have danced all night!"

A little bit of France revived by Kathy Pendergast, Janice Buehner, Sally Beauchane, and Phyllis Lefebvre.

Gary Green and North's John Wagren. "Here she comes! I'll bet she's going to ask you to dance again!"

Talent Show

Always an interesting experience for an audience composed of juniors and seniors, the Sophomore Talent Show, emceed by Jack Aertson, delighted the spectators.

The opening act was a Candid Camera Skit with Mary Benoit and Gloria Reid. Charlzetta Irwin was next in line, singing "Angel Baby" and "Gee Whiz," accompanied by Donnell Woodson. Jennifer Person and Sue Ryan were two hillbillies for the Tennessee Wig Walk dance. The Casuals, a trio composed of Shirley Torrence, Henrietta Hooker, and Linda Jackson sang "Please Say." The haughty-aired Can Can girls were Kathy Pendergast, Phyllis Lefebvre, Janice Buehner, and Sally Beauchane.

Junior Officers and Representatives

Because of the time, work, and imagination of the Junior Class officers along with a representative from each homeroom, the junior class enjoyed a well-planned, fun-filled year. They worked out plans for a Hallowe'en Party, Sweetheart dance, and a semi-formal dance. They also decided on the style of class ring for their fellow students.

With the guidance and supervision of their advisers, Mrs. Molly Moore and Mr. James Salwasser, the juniors have reached the final step before undertaking the responsibilities of being seniors.

Junior Student Council

The Junior Student Council members represent their class in the Council to voice their opinion in all-school matters. They also act as liaison agents between their homeroom and the Council.

With the help of the sophomore and senior members, they planned homecoming activities, the costume party, and shoe shine activities.

KING JIM and QUEEN MARY CAROL

Pat Melewski and Arlene Boike decorate the lunchroom in preparation for the dance.

Junior Sweetheart Dance

Something new was added to the Sweetheart dance this year—the seniors were invited.

The Junior Sweetheart Dance held in February was well attended and considered a grand success by both the faculty and the student body.

To add some amusement to the evening, a twist contest was held and several games were played.

The coronation of Mary Carol Bajari and Jim Schewe as king and queen, highlighted the evening.

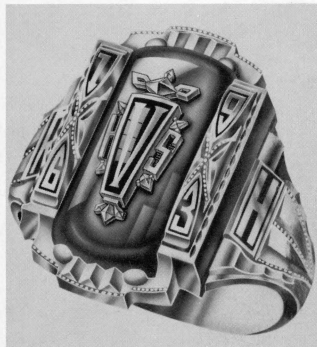

John Culliver and partner, Bobbi Shuck, are shaking up a storm.

Nancy Ternquist and Mr. Salvasser crown King Jim and Queen Mary Carol.

BRYCE MASON and PAT REGENTZ enjoy the games.

Slow and Easy!

Hallowe'en Party

October 27 was filled with games, music, and fun for all the juniors attending the Hallowe'en party. This was their first dance of the year.

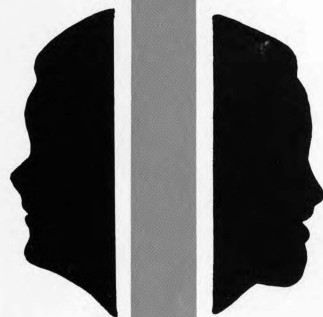

Everyone participated in the dancing and traditional Hallowe'en games. These games added a humorous touch to the evening. Mr. Salvasser and Mrs. Moore were chaperones.

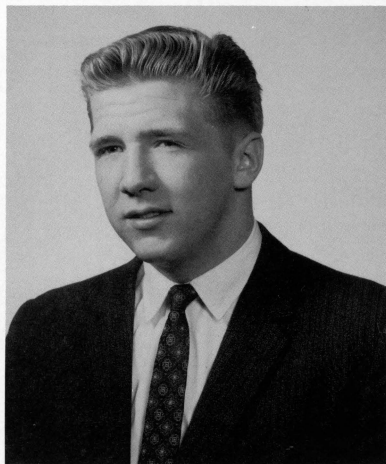

After twelve years of school we have emerged as self-confident individuals, eagerly clutching that diploma which shows we have completed our business here.

Then what? On page 153, the future is indicated

Seniors

President, STANLEY SKAVNAK

Vice President, MARLENE THURESON

Senior Class Officers

The busiest people in our Senior Class this year were those who had been elected Senior Class Officers. Stanley Skavnak presided over the Senior meetings. Marlene Thureson was always on hand in case of the president's absence. Jeanine Lindenberg took notes at all the business meetings. Trellis Patterson had the not-so easy job of making sure all the seniors had paid their dues.

Each year a student is selected from each senior home room to serve on the Senior Council. When problems arise—such as what will be the menu for the Senior Banquet, or the theme for the prom, or what kind of announcements will the seniors have this year, and so on—the Senior Council makes appropriate decisions based on preferences given each council member by his home room.

This group worked hard so that the seniors would have an enjoyable year and would have something to remember in the years to come.

Senior Advisers —

Seated: Miss Helen Robertson, Mrs. Grace Teeter, Miss Jean Huntoon, Mrs. Eleanor Byrne, Mrs. Sarah Lemke, Mrs. Katherine Rice, Mrs. Evelyn Beatty, Mrs. Elsie Kwakkernaat. Standing: Mr. Vernon Fiedler, Mr. James Reinertson, Miss Mildred Fisk, Mr. David Johnson, Miss Evelyn Edblom. Not Pictured: Mr. Leonard Dickey.

Our Senior Advisers had the task of directing us towards our one goal—graduation. They gave us encouragement, or an extra push, to keep us from going off the track. They also worked to help make our Senior year an enjoyable one by urging us to participate in all the extracurricular activities possible. Seniors will look back on this year and be grateful for their interest in us and in our success.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Lemke, Chairman of the Senior advisers.

Snow Day

Snow Day really was a snow day. For the first time in many years we had enough snow to really try out the hills of Columbia Park. It was a perfect day with the sun shining and the snow several inches deep. Nobody needed sleds or tubs for we had the old reliable cardboard or our own ingenuity as proved in these pictures. There was an air of suspense as Joe Laurent and Donna Forss were crowned Snow-Day King and Queen. The day concluded with a dance in the girls' gym.

"Let's get him, girls."

"Please don't!"

Queen Donna Forss and King Joe Laurent in winter setting at Columbia Chalet.

Sue Hallstrom and Donna Kreger "crown" Dick Gunlap on Snow Day.

Senior Snow Day dance provided an evening of fun.

Senior Banquet

On February 2 the long-awaited night had come. The dinner was sumptuous, but everyone was really waiting for the dance to begin . . . The dance floor looked like a garden as girls in their lovely, flower-like dresses moved gracefully with their escorts to the rhythm of Jerry Dibble's band. It seemed as if the evening had just begun when it was over.

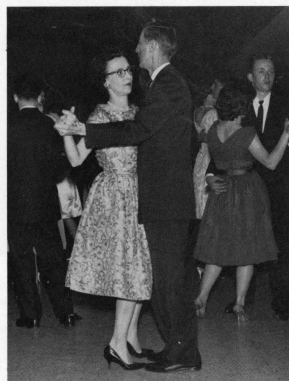

"We could have danced all night."

Stan Skavnak, president of the senior class, welcomes students and faculty to the Senior Banquet.

Mr. Norman Jensen delivers greetings.

Mr. Jensen cavorts on the dance floor with a friend. (We understand she's a former Home Ec. teacher.)

What's lacking here? Bob Allen flashes a crisp new bill while Bob Swantek merrily contemplates his empty glass. The rest of the beggars are Mike Rea, Dennis Brown, Chuck Berger, and Jim Kapala.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Lemke beams as she inspects her clock radio received as a surprise.

Minneapolis Star and Tribune Award

A cash award and a certificate of honor are presented to a student outstanding in leadership, scholarship, and service.

Kathleen Hruska
Senior, Calculating Machines

"Hands" have been shown in many art forms, in many attitudes; but the hand sculpture in our auditorium foyer is not the horny hand of ignorant toil; it is the fine, sensitive hand of a skilled worker—one who loves and understands his craft. This represents the best that effective vocational education can achieve.

Minnesota Girls State

Sponsored by the Viking and Bearcat units of the American Legion Auxiliary, a Junior girl selected on the basis of moral character, leadership, courage, honesty, and interest in government, to receive citizenship training for a week of "living" government in groups patterned after state and national governing bodies.

Karen Johnson
Junior, Sales and Receptionist Training

Minnesota Boys State

Sponsored by Bearcat Post No. 50, and Voiture Post No. 45, two Junior boys are selected on the basis of scholarship and leadership to participate in a project similar to Girls' State, in order that they may gain a higher appreciation of and wholehearted allegiance to the democratic way of life.

Darys Larson
Junior, Radio and TV

Caylord Benson
Junior, Commercial Art

"Mankind moves so slowly; it is because individuals have a capacity for better things that it moves at all."

—George Gissing

Elizabeth Fish Memorial Fund Award

To qualify for this award, students should do outstanding work in their trade, with commensurate academic success; should participate in student social affairs, and live up to the ideas of Vocational High School.

Delphine Olivera
Senior, Pre-Nursing

Josie Warhol
Senior, Stenography

Mary Ingle
Senior, Cosmetology

American Legion Award Sponsored by Wold Chamberlain Post No. 99

Students receive this medal in recognition of outstanding traits such as leadership, loyalty, service, courage, and scholarship.

Judith Canavan
Senior, Stenography

Ingo Schalwig
Senior, Printing

Daughters of the American Revolution Award

Given to a student who is outstanding in qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Elizabeth Schumacher
Senior, Calculating Machines

First National Bank High School Award

Silver medals are awarded to a boy and a girl whose habits of scholarship, initiative and cooperation are coupled with a readiness to assume as well as discharge responsibilities to school and community.

Rose Mary Kmetz
Senior, Stenography

Stanley Skavnak
Senior, Sheet Metal

Student Council Award

A wrist watch given by the Student Council of Vocational High School to a Senior boy and a Senior girl who was most outstanding in contributing to our school life.

Milinal Williams

Robert Brophrey
Senior, Radio and TV

Class of 1962 Award

Given by the Senior Class to two of its members—one boy and one girl—which the class considers to best represent the Class of '62.

Jeannie Lindenberg
Senior, Stenography

Don King
Senior, Architectural Drafting

*"The world, the race, the soul—in space and time the universes,
All bound as is befitting
each—all surely going somewhere."*

—Walt Whitman

—And we all are most certainly "going somewhere"! In spite of the dangers and international tensions of our times, we go into that "somewhere" with faith in the future. It is a space world we are stepping into, and we cross its threshold with both joy and curiosity, looking back just once to make sure that all of our younger schoolmates will soon follow us.
